

Bursary Description and Details

The A. Mary Holmes Music Education Bursary provides financial support to students studying music at the Maritime Conservatory of Performing Arts. To be eligible for the bursary, students must:

- Be no more than 25 years old
- Demonstrate financial need
- Have a confirmed lesson plan with a Conservatory faculty member

The bursary will remain available for students until all the funds are awarded each academic year. Priority will be given to students who have not previously studied at the Conservatory, and for students who self-identify with an underrepresented community.

Each application will be assessed by the Dean of Music. Normally, eligible students may receive a maximum of $450 in funding each academic year. Bursaries will be awarded in the form of a tuition credit on the student's registration account.

To complete an application, please fill out the second page of this package and submit it to the Administration Office at the Conservatory. There is no deadline for applications, however bursaries cannot be applied towards tuition that has already been paid for. (Therefore, applications should be made before lessons take place).

For questions, please contact the Dean of Music by email at: music.dean@maritimeconservatory.com
